AFTER DUE CONSIDERATION,

I agree to wave my legal right to sue Fandango Farms Inc., and or Ed Walter and or LeRae Walter for anything that may happen to me, including injury, death, or psychological distress, or loss or damage to my possessions while at a Fandango event , including driving to or from the event.

I understand that Fandango events occur in a large party like environment, on a working farm which includes many potential hazards such as (but not limited to) the following:

- Various pieces of farm machinery.
- In an indoor and outdoor environment which can include hidden and unlighted hazards.
- Buildings, decks & stairs which may not conform to building codes.
- Fellow attendees who may behave in unpredictable ways.
- The surrounding land, which includes steep inclines & cliffs, creeks, rocky & otherwise dangerous terrain.

FIRST AID

I understand that Fandango does not endeavour to provide attendees with robust or professional first aid or medical interventions of any kind. Should an attendee require medical attention Fandango assumes no responsibility whatsoever, to provide such first aid or medical attention.

Fandango attendees should be aware that a 911 emergency call requesting an ambulance would likely take at least 30 min to arrive at the event.
